"The Store Where Quality Counts"

Frocks for Junior-Misses

When one is not a little girl nor yet grown-up such frocks as these are interesting. Aside from being very modish and summery, young girls will like to wear them because of the attractive patterns of their fabrics. Handsome plaids, neat checks and stripes, and pleasing plain shades make the assortment unusually attractive. Prices on all are exceedingly moderate.

$3.50 to $6.50

In every little girl's wardrobe there should be plenty of play frocks—the kind that will resist the ravages of the laundry and constant wear. Neatly made of practical Gingham and Chambray, here are frocks that are smart, pretty in color and very moderately priced. Sizes 2 to 6 years.

$1.75 to $2.98

COUNTY FARM CENSUS

Is Being Issued By the Bureau of the Census.

The bureau of the census is issuing county press summaries showing some of the most important results of the census of agriculture, such as the number of farms, farm acreage, farm values, live stock and principal crops. Special summaries are also issued giving preliminary figures for irrigation and drainage enterprises. These summaries are issued for each county as soon as the tabulation is complete and are available for distribution to the press and to individuals who may be interested, so long as the supply lasts.

Requests for the summary for any particular county will be received from individuals and placed on file until such time as that county may be completed. Requests for more than one county will be received from periodicals, educational institutions, officers of organizations, and others in a position to make profitable use of the information.

Somewhat more comprehensive summaries will be issued for the states, as fast as they are completed, and these summaries will be closely followed by a series of state bulletins giving detailed information for each state, by counties.

The number of copies of each summary available for distribution is necessarily limited, but it is expected that the supply will be ample to meet any reasonable demand. Requests for copies should be addressed to the director, bureau of the census, division of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

After playing against what they called unfair decisions, the Barre A. withdrew from the field at Burlington yesterday in the ninth inning, with the Queen City Cotton Co. team leading, two to one. The dispute leading to the withdrawal of the Barre team was over a liner, which Bottiggi drove over third base, which was declared by most of the crowd as a hit, but which was called foul by Umpire Yandow. The umpire finally consented to allowing the batter to try it over again, but this, the Barre team would not hear to. Hence Manager Keeffe withdrew his men from the field.

A post-graduate course of six weeks in the study of tuberculosis was ended Saturday by Dr. D. C. Jarvis of this city at the Trudeau school of tuberculosis, and last evening, Dr. Jarvis arrived in Barre to reopen his office in the Howland block. At the Trudeau school he had occasion to meet physicians from the Philippine islands, London, England, Czechoslovakia and Canada, all of whom were there studying a similar course.

Miss Rena Gianni of 364 North Main street arrived in the city last evening from Westerly, R. I., with Mr. and Mrs. John Monti of that city, who come to pass a week with relatives in the Italian colony. Miss Gianni has been having a three weeks' vacation as an assistant to Dr. D. C. Jarvis, returning to work to-day, after visiting in New York City and Westerly. Miss Margaret McQuaid, who returned to the city Saturday from Everett, Mass., also resumed work at the Jarvis office to-day.

WATERBURY

The canning demonstration will be given by Miss Mildred Boice, the new home demonstration agent for Washington county, in the town hall at Duxbury Corner Tuesday afternoon at 1:30. Vegetables brought will be canned and questions answered relative to the work. It is hoped a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity and give Miss Boice a hearty welcome to this part of the county. She will be the guest of Miss Palmer. White Chips Cost More.

"Have you felt the effects of the high cost of living?" "I'll say we have," replied Cactus Joe. "We keep up with the times. There ain't a poker game in the Gulch now where you can get a white chip for less than 35¢."—Washington Star.

MONTPELIER

Mrs. Anna Brady, who has been visiting with P. J. Connolly, her brother, has gone to her home in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wry, who have been on their wedding trip, stopped in the city to-day before going to their home in St. Albans.

The police force of Montpelier appeared in new uniforms Sunday, following the usual custom of a new suit each year. Earlier in the season it was decided by the supply committee not to purchase because tailors had advised that they did not need them but later the committee decided to equip the force as the custom had been. The suits cost nearly $90 each this year, against a little over $40 three years ago.

The detour sign, which has been at the head of State street in Montpelier for three weeks, was removed Saturday evening by direction of S. B. Bates, state highway commissioner. Mr. Bates went over the East Montpelier road Saturday afternoon and found that the Redway bridge had been repaired so that it was not necessary to have the sign up longer and notified one of the aldermen in Montpelier, directing that the sign be removed, which was done and traffic can again assume the usual route between Burlington and the White mountains.

ONE SMALL HIT

Was All That Ford Allowed Graniteville and Moretown Won, 1 to 0.

Moretown, July 26.—One of the fastest and best played ball games ever seen in central Vermont was played on the local park Saturday when Moretown won the rubber game from Graniteville by the score of 1 to 0. It was a pitchers' battle from the start, with Gray of Graniteville going strong and with Ford of Moretown in very rare form.

Ford pitched one of his best games, allowing only one scratch hit and that coming in the ninth with two gone. He gave no free tickets to first base but he issued many round-trip tickets from bench to home plate and home plate to bench via the strikeout route. In fact, it got to the point where the visiting batters were so discouraged over being unable to hit the ball that Thompson forgot that he was not hitting the line for Brookline, high, for, having failed three times to connect safely, he jumped into one of Ford's tantalizers. Perhaps it was the drizzling rain that was falling and the cool weather that brought back ideas of football days to him.

No little credit should be given Gray for he surely pitched an excellent brand of ball, keeping the Moretown strikers down to three hits and issuing only three passes. His team-mates played good ball, getting him out of three bad holes by executing double plays.

Fielding features were contributed by "Nig" Smith, who picked up a couple of fast ones far away from his station. "Dutey" Ricciarelli played a consistent game at short, accepting cleanly four hard chances. Sheridan made a perfect peg from deep center, doubling Smith at first. Again in the eighth he crept in from the outfield, unnoticed by anyone, and caught Grania off second and also got Young, who tried to make home on the play, pulling Gray out of a bad hole.

Moretown got its tally in the third inning when Irons walked, stole second of ball, keeping the Moretown Grania's sacrifice. Graniteville did not have a man reach first base until the ninth but did not have a ghost of a chance to move any further.

A large crowd from neighboring towns attended the game. Warren rooters came down to root for their favorite Ford. Graniteville royal rooters were numerous and tried to spur their team on but to no avail. The line-up:

The Moretown manager would like to hear from any team desiring to arrange a series of games.

Wasn't Open.

A rather green countryman had just returned from his first visit to New York.

"Well, Sir," said the postmaster, "what did you think of the metropolis?"

"Wat say?" gawked the other, stumped by so big a word.

"I asked how did you like the metropolis?"

"Oh, that—'twasn't open," said Sir.

She Calls No More.

"Mrs. Newcomb, you're an artist, aren't you?"

"Why, no, child. What makes you think that?"

"Why, last time you called, after you went, I heard mamma say: 'I'll bet that woman paints.'"
